DESCRIPTION OF CASTES AND COMMUNITIES OF THE STATE OF KARNATAKA

We have ventured into a description of castes and communities with a view to clarify the groupings of the various castes, sub-castes, synonyms and related groups included in the State level caste list. We have grouped all the related traditional occupational groups under one main caste name, along with their synonyms and sub-castes. We have extensively depended on the works of renowned authors like Edgar Thurston who has brought out seven volumes on 'Caste and Tribes of Southern India' (First published in 1909) and also Rao Bahadur L.K. Anantha Krishna Iyer on 'The Mysore Tribes and Castes' in 4 volumes (Published in 1928). The representations and evidences given by various caste groups and associations during the Commission sittings at the District Headquarters and in Bangalore have also been taken into consideration in our deliberations. Our own Socio-Economic-cum-Educational Survey has greatly helped us to understand their present socio, economic and educational status in the society.

HINDU RELIGION

AGASA :- Agasas or Madivalas are mostly Kannada speaking traditional Washerman of Mysore. Madivala is the main synonym for 'Agasa'. 'Madivala' means a person who makes cloths 'Madi' or clean. 'Rajakhan' is a dyer of clothes and is a Sanskrit equivalent of washerman. Vannan is the Tamil equivalent. Tsakala or Sakala or Chakala derives the name from 'Chaku' - to wash' and are the washerman of Telugu Country. They were also the palanquin bearers. Parit is the Bombay caste of washerman found in South Canara. The Lingayat Madivalas are not included in this group and are dealt separately.

AMBALAVASI : Originally Ambalavasi is the generic name applied to all classes of Temple servants, especially in Malabar. The main Sub-division reflected in our Survey of 1984 is 'Puduval'.

AMBALAKARAN : Ambalakaran is the usual designation of a head of a village especially in the village occupied by the castes, 'Maravans' and 'Kallans'. It is also stated as a Tamil caste of traditional village watchman. The synonyms are Ambalkar and Ambelkar.

BAANDHI : Baandhi's are now-adays agriculturists. They are supposed to have been domestic servants earlier.

BALIJA: Baliija is the chief Telugu trading caste found in the State ('Bali' - a sacrifice, 'ja' - born). Their origin is traced to a performance of a Yoga; originally an offshoot of Kapu. They used to go from village to village and in the villages from house to house, selling bangles, beads, beetle-leaves, flowers, etc., In Tamil, a sub-group of them is called Valaiyal or Vala (Bangle) Chetti and in Kannada, Bale Chetti. Telugu or Telega Chetti is again a synonym for Baliija Chetti.

Naidu is a title taken by some members of this community.

The other synonyms are Munnur Kapu, Bogam Teluga, Kasban and Sukumanchi Banajiga, Dasari Balijiga, Setti Baliija and Banajiga Setti. They are also called 'Munnuti Gumpu' which literally means 300 families living as a group in an area. Muthurasi or Muttrasi is also a synonym. Lingayat Banajiga is separate and it has been dealt under Lingayat group.

BAVAJI : Under Bavaji, we have included the related groups composed of the traditionally religious mendicants, like Bavaji, Byragi, Gosayi, Nathpanthi and Davari. The religious mendicants of these groups were drawn from various castes and not from one single caste. However, they were all given to a life of religious asceticism and wandering.

BEDA: Bedas are traditionally the hunting and agricultural tribe of Mysore, a community living in the hilly tracts and forests, collecting forest products. They have also fought under Palegars of olden days, in times of war. They are called Boya or Boyis in Telugu and Ramoshis in Maharashtra; Beda or Berad in Mysore. In Kannada the synonyms are Bedar, Bydas and Byadas. The Tamil equivalent is Vedan. The main sub-divisions are Uru Bedar or Uru-Nayaka, Myasa Bedar or Myasa Nayaka. Palegar or Palegara and Haranashikari are also the synonyms.

They also take titles like Naik, Valmiki and Thalavar and call themselves as Nayakamakkalu - children of chiefs, and Valmiki Makkalu.

A section of Bedas calling themselves as Nayaka have enumerated themselves as 'Nayaka' which is in the Scheduled Tribes list. Under Naikda or Nayaka, included in the list of Scheduled Tribes, however, it is to be noticed that, only the following 4 sub-groups are recognised, as per 1950 Schedule,¹ namely Cholivala Nayaka, Mota Nayaka, Nana Nayaka and Kapadia Nayaka.

However, it seems that the Nayaka Group of Bedas have enumerated themselves as Nayakas with a view to take benefit under this Scheduled Tribe list. This explains why the population of Nayakas in Bombay area², has varied from 26 in 1911 Census; and 18 in 1921 Census; and

1. The Constitution (Scheduled Tribes) order 1950 (C.O.22)
 2. Figures have been worked out from Census of India for Bombay Karnataka area from the Census figures of 1901, 1911, 1921, 1961 & 1971

5,477 in 1931 Census; and 2,072 in 1951 Census. The variation was as high as 64,460 in 1961, 68,632 in 1971 Census 3,89,296 in the 1981 Census in the Bombay-Karnataka area., In the 1984 Survey conducted by this Commission, 9,94,196 people have enumerated themselves as Bedas amounting to 2.75 percent of the total population and an equal number of 8,30,734, amounting to 2.3 percent have enumerated themselves as Nayakas, who have been kept under Scheduled Tribes. If we combine these two groups, the total percentage works out to 5.4 which is nearer to the percentage of Beda population in the State as per 1941 Census.

BESTHA : Besthas are traditional fisherman. They call themselves Ganga Makkalu, as being the children of water of the river Ganga. They are also called Toreya, Ambiga and Parivara (retinue). In western parts they are called as Kabbera and Gangakula. The caste name is derived from the Kannada word 'Besadu' meaning 'Throw'. Telugu speaking fisherman are called Boyis. They were also palanquin bearers and engaged in lime-burning.

Gabit or Meenugara is the equivalent of Bestha. So also is Harikanthar. They are also known as Kharvi or Koli in Maharashtra. They call themselves Maddar, especially a synonym for Barki. The other synonyms are Bunde Besta/Gunde Besta, Gabit, Hari Kanthar, Jalagara and Parivara.

Koli is the Maratha equivalent of Gangakula. Koli Dhor and Tokre Koli are different from Koli and are socially very low. They are included under Scheduled Tribe list and are mainly found in Maharashtra and some of them dwell in Karnataka. However, this term should not be equated with Koli which is a Maratha equivalent of Bestha.

Mogaveera is a fisherman community living in South Kanara and North Kanara Districts.

The Mogers of North Kanara are nothing but the corresponding Mogaveera of South Kanara District. They are not to be equated with Moger of (South Kanara) found in the Scheduled Castes List.

BRAHMIN : This is traditionally a priestly caste and the various sub-groups and synonyms enumerated as per our 1984 survey are as follows :

Iyengar, Iyer, Chit Pavana, Deshastha, Gowda-Saraswatha, Havyak Brahmana, Hebbar, Hoyisala-Karnataka, Kamme, Kanva, Karade, Konkani Brahman, Kote Brahman, Madhva, Mudre Brahman, Sankethi, Shiva Brahmin, Smartha, Sthanika Brahmana, Vaishnava Brahmana and Padarthi.

BUDUBUDUKI: This is a caste of gypsi beggars and fortune tellers mainly from Maharashtra, who pretend to consult birds and reptiles to predict future events. They carry an hour-glass shaped drum called Budubuduki and hence the name. The synonyms are Budu Buduki and Budi-budukaru.

Garudiga or Garadi who are originally a class of mendicants and snake-charmers in Telugu country and Mysore, given to performing various sorts of juggling and acrobats, are also included under this category as a related group.

BUNT: Bunts are the landed gentry in South Kanara District. The name Bunt, also pronounced as BANT, means in Thulu, a powerful man or a soldier. It seems to be originally a military class corresponding to the Nayars of Malabar. Parivar Bunt are a subsidiary group of Bunts and Nadavas or Nador are one and the same as Bunts. They take the titles like Shetty, Hegde, Nayak, Bangera, Rai, Ballal and Alva.

DARJI : Darjis are the traditional tailors. The term is derived from the Persian word 'Darz' meaning a "seam". The synonyms and sub-groups are Bhavasara Kshatriya, Nama Deva Simpi, Simpi and Rangare.. Shimpi is a related name in Marathi, 'Chippiga' is the Kannada name which means Printer or Dyer of the cloth. Rangare is the Marathi synonym which means, the one who works in 'Rang' or colour i.e, a printer or dyer of cloth.

DASARU: This is originally a caste of Mendicant vaishnavas recruited from all castes of Sudras. Dasari means, a servant of God. They used to go begging with Garuda-Gamba and Jagate. 'Dombi Dasaru' who dance in groups traditionally, have come up in our survey as a sub-caste of this group. Dasaru is a synonym.

DESHA BANDARI : This is a small community reflected in our survey with a population of only 2325 and we have kept it separately.

DEVADIGA : Devadigas are mostly Kannada speaking traditional temple-servants, concentrated in South Kanara. They are also musicians (instrumentalists), Some of them are called as 'Moili'. Presently they are mainly agriculturists. The other related groups and synonyms are Devali, Serigara or Seregara.

DEVANGA: Devanga is the weaving community of the State. Several such weaving classes used to be clubbed together as 'Neygie' or weaving class, which may not be accurate. Hence, we have kept both Devanga and Neygi separately. Under Devanga, the synonyms and sub-groups are 'Devanga Shettigara', Hatkar, Hatgar, Kostu and Julahi.

GANIGA : Ganiga are the traditional oil-pressers and oil mongers. They are also known as Jyothiphana people i.e., the community of Lamp or the people who give light. They are called 'Gandlas' in Telugu and 'Vaniyan' in Tamil. They are also known as Teli. Lingayat Ganigas are treated separately under Lingayat group.

GATTI: These are cultivators in South Kanara. They are also called 'Poladava' or Holadava'.

GOLLA : Gollas are originally a pastoral and indigenous caste of Telugu people in Mysore. They are called Uru (Town) Gollas, Kadu (Jungle) Gollas and in Malnad areas they are called as Gowliga. They are also addressed as Yadava-kula or Kirshna-kula.

Their main occupation is tending cows and sale of milk and milk products, Hanabar is a synonym. The Tamil equivalent is Konar.

Maniyanis of Kerala claim to be a synonym and thus equivalent to Yadavas in the State. They are actually Malayali speaking agriculturists living in South Kanara District.

GONDHALI : Gondhali is a class of traditional religious beggars or mendicants. They have migrated from Bombay presidency and are of marathi origin. They used to perform a sort of dance which goes by the name 'Gondhali', which is a kind of torch - light dance in honour of Goddess 'Amba - Bhavani' and 'Renuka' and hence the name.

GONIGA : Goniga is a caste of gunny - bag (sack) weavers using Jute-fibre as raw material. They also serve as grain porters. It includes the synonyms, '24 Mane Telugu Chetti' and Sadu Chetti.

GUDIGARA : Gudigaras are the original carvers of sandlewood, found mainly in Sorab and Sagar taluks of Shimoga District and also in the border areas of North and South Kanara.

HALWAKKI WAKKAL : Halwakki Wakkal is an agricultural class, who are relatively poor. Gam Vokkalu, Kare Vokkalu and Atte Vokkalu are grouped under this. They mainly live in North Kanara District and are distinct from Vokkaligas.

HELAVA : Helava literally means one without a limb or a disabled person. Helava or Helavaru is applied traditionally to the class of beggars who were supposed to beg only from Vokkaligas. In Telugu they are known as Pichigunta. It is nothing but an assembly of beggars and geneologists.

HINDU SIKKALIGARA : These are traditional knife-grinders; the synonyms are Sikkaligar and Sikilkarar.

HINDU-HUGAR : These are people who were the traditional flower growers and vendors. Gurav are the Lingayat Hugars and are dealt separately under Lingayat group. The Phool-malis are Muslim Hugars who are treated under Muslims.

IDIGA : Under this, are groups all the toddy-tappers in the State who are called by different names in different areas. Idigas are the toddy-drawers from Ichalu tress (date palms). Toddy tappers of Malabar are called as Ilavas, Ezhuvan and Tiyan. The Billavas are the Tulu speaking toddy drawing people in South Kanara. In North Kanara, these people are called Kumara-Paik. The Tamil toddy-drawers are called as Nadars. Gamalla or Kalal is the Hindustani synonym for toddy-drawers. The Malayali Billava is called as Belchada. Poojari is the title taken by the caste of Billavas in South Kanara. They are called Deevar in Shimoga District and Kalal in Hyderabad Karnatak area. Hale-Paik or Namdhari and Bandhari are the synonyms in North Kanara District.

JETTI: Jetti call themselves also as Mallaru, Malla Kshatriya and Musthiga. They are traditionally a caste of professional wrestlers and gymnasts.

JOGI : These are traditionally religious mendicants, deriving their name 'Jogi', i.e., the man who practices 'Yoga'. They also call themselves as Brahma Kapali and Kapali.

KAMMA: These are agriculturists who have migrated from the neighbouring State of Andhra Pradesh in search of job.

They are said to have common ancestry along with Kapus or Reddies, Velamas and Telagas, and many of them are landed gentry and zamindars especially in Andhra Pradesh.

We have kept Kamma Reddy, Velama, Velama Reddy and Kamma Kapu under this group. Choudhary is the title taken by them.

KANIYAN : Kanisan is a Malayalam corruption of Sanskrit word 'Ganika' which means Astrologer. They have the title Panikka. Panikkas are also known as Asan.

KANJIR BHAT : Kanjir Bhat are traditionally Heraldsmen.

KATIK : Katik are the original Butchers in Telugu Country. The Marathi butchers are called as Are Kasai. The synonyms are Kalal Khatik, Maratti Are Kasai, Katuka and Katuga. They call themselves as Suryavamsha Kshatriya.

KODAVA : Kodavas or Kodagaru are the Coorgis. They are of martial race and the original inhabitants of Kodavanadu or Coorg.

We have included Amma-Kodava also here as a related group though they are slightly different, being the priestly class among Kodavas, as in social and economic position, they are almost equivalent.

KOTE KSHATRIYA : They also call themselves as Rama Raja Kshatriya. They are called Koteyava, Kotegara and Koteyar as they are said to be a branch of the Konkan Marathis of Goa who were invited by Lingayat Kings to serve as soldiers and to defend their forts. Their titles are Serugara and Servegara. They also call themselves as Kumara Kshatriya and Kumarapanth.

Kotegar is also found in the Scheduled Castes list. This has given rise to confusion. However, the Kotegar and Serugara (of North Kanara District) and Servegars (of South Kanara District) are different and are not Scheduled Castes.

KOTTARI : Kottaris are originally Raja Sevaks and mainly domestic servants.

KSHATRIYA: Under this group, we have included only two synonyms namely 'Kshatriya' and 'kshatri'. They are the traditional warriors.

In 1901 census, the following castes were grouped under Kshatriya :-

"Kshatriya, Arasus, Rajputs, Coorgis and Sikhs". We have dealt each of these groups separately.

RAJU KSHATRIYA : Rajus and Razus claim to be the descendants of a Military class. They are supposed to have come to Karnataka following the descendants of Vijayanagar Kings who had migrated to Karnataka after the fall of the Kingdom. Rachevar or Rajuwar is a related group. They are also known as Raju, Bhat Raju, Raju Kshatriya, Rachevar and Rajuvar. Some of them take the title, Arsu.

KUDUBI : Kudubis are found mostly in Kundapur taluk of South Kanara District. They speak Marathi and Konkani. Their main occupation is cultivation. They have a low social status.

KUMBARA : Kumbaras are the makers of earthen pots and tiles. The name is derived from the Sanskrit word 'Kumbhakara', meaning 'makers of pots'. Telugu Kumbara and Sajjana Kumbara are treated here. Lingayat Kumbaras have been dealt separately under Lingayats.

They are called 'Chakrasali' in Kannada, 'Kusuvan' in Tamil and 'Moolya' and 'Kulai' in South Kanara. They also assume the title "Shetty" and call themselves as 'Kumbara Shetty'. They are called Gunaga in North Kanara.

KURUBA : Kurubas are a pastoral community of shepherds.

Traditionally they rear sheep and also weave woolen blankets. They are also known as 'Halumatha' or milk caste. Dhanagar is the Marati word for shepherds. Other synonyms are 'Gorava' and Kurumba.

The Kadu kurubas are called Kurumban in Tamil Nadu. The Kadu Kurubas and Jenu Kurubas of Coorg live in jungles and still lead a primitive life. They are different from these Kurubas and are included under Scheduled Tribes list.

LADAR : Ladars are traders in horses. They are originally migrants from South Gujarat or "Lat Desh".

LINGAYATHA : The Lingayathas or Veerashaivas are a religious community consisting of converts from various castes, held together by the bond of their common religion founded by Basaveshwara and they wear "Lingam". As reflected in our Survey, it is seen that almost all the major Hindu castes have been reflected under Lingayatha group as sub-castes and we have shown them separately so as to differentiate them from the corresponding caste-groups in Hindu fold. These sub-castes are MARATHA : Marathas are people of Marati speaking, landed gentry who were soldiers and cultivators, claiming to be descendents of Kshatriyas.

As a caste name it is open to confusion, as people of various other castes who speak Marathi are grouped as belonging to Maratta caste.

However, as per 1921 census report, the true Maratta caste, has only the following subdivisions :

"Maratha, Arer, Gabit, Kunbi & Kulvadi, Kunbi of Khandesh, Kudbi".

Marathas of South Kanara are called 'Are Kshatri'. They also call themselves as 'Kshatriya Maratta', 'Are Maratta' and 'Aryaru'./

MEDAR : Medars are the traditional bamboo-basket makers. They are also called Medars, Medarlu and Medarakaran; Meda is a synonym. Gouriga and Burud have returned as a sub-castes of Medars. The Medas in the Scheduled Tribes list and these Medars are one and the same, and Medars should be included in the Scheduled Tribe list.

MUDALIYAR : Mudaliyars are Vellalas who take the title or surname of 'Pillai' and 'Mudali'. They are related closely to Aga-mudiyar - a cultivating class. Tulu Vellala, a sub-division of Agamudiyar is also related to this caste. Karunika pillai is also a sub-caste under this.

They are landed gentry, traders and are a powerful community in Tamilnadu, where their chief occupation is agriculture (Vellanmai : 'Vellam' - Water, 'anmai' - management).

NAGARTHA : Nagartha are the traditional traders and who were supposed to have dwelt in a 'Nagara' or Town. The Vaishnava group of them are "Namadhari Nagartha" and the Lingayat group are called "Lingadhari Nagartha". Lingayat Nagarthas are kept separately under Lingayats. Their occupation is trading.

NAYAR : Nayars are originally supposed to belong to a military class, but presently, they are engaged in various occupations. They have migrated from Kerala to this State. They assumed the title 'Panikar', 'Nambiyar' is a sub-caste under this.

NAYINDA : Nayindas are the traditional, barbers and also professional musicians. They are also known as 'Kelasi' in Kannada which denotes 'the one who works'. Kelasiga is a synonym. 'Hajam' is the Hindustani word. They are known as "Ambattan" in Tamil and 'Mangala' in Telugu. 'Silavantha', the Lingayat Nayindas are dealt with separately under Lingayathas.

In Sanskrit 'Napita' and 'Kshaurika' mean barber.

As they are also professional musicians, they are called as 'Melagara' or 'Bhajantri'. They are also called as 'Nayanaja Kshatriya'. Synonyms are Navaliga, Navi and Savitha. They are called 'Mahale' in North Kanara.

NEYIGE : The term Neyige or Neygi applies to the silk and cotton Handloom weavers of the State.

Under this group, there are Sali or Sale with the sub-divisions of Padmasale, Pattasale, Sakunasale, Swakulasale, Aviri, Ayiri, Jadaru and Nekara. The Tamil equivalent to the weaver is 'Kaikolan'. The Telugu equivalent is 'Togataru' or Thogataveera, Kuruhina Shetty, Kuruvinaru, Kurni, Bannaru, Bilimagga and Seniga are the other synonyms.

Patnulkaran are the silk weavers from Tamilnadu who are supposed to be the original settlers from Gujurat Country and they call themselves also as Saurashtra.

PATEGAR : Pategars also call themselves as Somavamsha Sahasrarjuna Kshatriya. They speak a language which is a mixture of Marati, Hindi and Gujarathi. Their main occupation is weaving, particularly ribbon and nakki.

RAJPUT : Rajputs belong to the Kshatriya group from North India who have settled in the State. They are called as "Rajaputha".

RAVULA : This is a small group, reflected in our survey with a population of only 426 and we have kept it separately.

RAYARAVUTARU : They represent a section of Rajus or Kshatriya caste who were mainly the personnel employed in cavalry and serving the then ruling class.

HINDU SADARU : Sadaru are the non-lingayat population of Sadaru community whose main occupation is agriculture and also trade. They are distinct from Jain Sadars and Lingayat Sadars.

SATANI : Satanis are a caste engaged in Temple service and officiate as priests in village temples, mostly in Anjaneya temples. The word is actually derived from "SATTADAVAN" - 'one who does not wear sacred thread and tuft of hair'. Satanis are also called "Dasa Nambis". Their other synonyms include "Chatthada - Sri Vaishnava', 'Sameraya' and 'Khadri Vaishnava'.

SCHEDULED CASTE AND SCHEDULED TRIBE : The castes and communities among those listed as SC & ST in the corresponding schedules and which have been reflected in our survey, have been kept under the SC & ST list.

SIDDI : This is a tribe found mainly in North Kanara. They are of Negroid origin and the origin is traced to African slaves who were brought to Goa during Portugese regime. Among these, there are converts as Muslims, Christians and Hindus. They are also called as 'Habsis'.

SOMAVAMSHA KSHATRIYA : These people are mainly artists, painters and also proficient in making horse-saddles. They are also known as Chitradurga, Jeenagara, Nalabund and Tambat.

TEWAR : These are agriculturists, immigrated from Tamil Nadu and are originally related to Maravan and Kallan castes found in Tamil Nadu.

THIGALA : Thigala is traditionally a community of Kitchen and flower gardeners who cultivate flowers and vegetables. It is a Canarese synonym of the Tamil "Palli" or Vanniyan". They are also called as 'Agni Kula - Kshatriya' as they trace their origin to Agni Vamsha, and claim to have arisen out of 'Agni Kunda' - the Sacrificial fire. The synonyms are 'Agni Kula' or 'Vanni Kula', and 'Shambhukula Kshatriya'.

UPPARA : Upparas are traditionally workers in salt pan. They are also called 'Uppiliyan', 'Uppaliga' Uppaliga Shetti and 'Melu Sakkareyavaru'. The salt they make was considered better than sugar and hence the name, 'Melusakkareyavaru'. They also engage in tank-digging and earth-works. Their main traditional occupation, however is, manufacture of 'earth-salt'. Other synonyms are 'Namada Uppara' Sunagar, Chunar, Beldar, Yekalara, Padit, Kallu Uppara, Mannu Uppara, Gaundi and Gavadi. Lonari is a Maratti synonym.

URS : They are also called, Ars, Arasu and Arsu. This name indicates the title assumed by the ruling class of old Mysore. They are Kshatriyas and have provided a line of Kings as rulers to the Mysore State. They also had taken the title of Wadeyars.

VAISYA : They are traditionally traders and are also called 'Komati' or 'Komatiga'.

Rajapuri who are also a trading class has been included under this group. They are called in the North as 'Baniya'. Chetti or Chettiyar, the trading class of South India, is a related group. 'Vanis' are Marati speaking trading class.

Bandekara who are Konkani Vanis also call themselves as 'Vaisya Brahmins'. They are also kept under this group. Baandhis also take the surname, Bandekar.

VISWAKARMA OR PANCHALA : These are the traditional Artisans among whom 5 classes of workers of Art are included namely : Gold and Silver, Brass and Copper, Iron, Wood and stone (Silpi).

They claim themselves to be born from the Five faces of Shiva and call themselves as 'Vishwa-Brahmana'. They are known as 'Bailu Kammara' and 'Bailu Akkasale'. In Kannada the Iron-smiths are called 'Kammara', the Telugu equivalent is 'Kamsala' and Tamil equivalent 'Kammalan' and Lohar in Northern India.

The goldsmiths are called 'Akkasale' in Kannada, 'Sonar' in Marathi and 'Thattan' in Tamil. Asari is the title assumed by Thattans.

Carpenters are known as 'Badagis' in Kannada and as 'Tachan' in Tamil.

The stone workers are called as 'Silpi' in Sanskrit, 'Kanchagaras' are the brass workers.

The other surnames and related names are Charodi, Mesta, Chaptegar, Gajjara, Daivagna Brahmana and Panchala.

VOKKALIGA : Vokkaligas are the landed gentry and the agriculturist caste of Karnataka.

'Okkalu' means cultivation or agriculture. The main sub-divisions are 'Morasu Vokkaliga', 'Gangadikara Vokkaliga', Kudu Vokkaliga, Kunchitiga, Hallikar (Pallikar) Vokkaliga, Namdhari Vokkaliga, Reddy Vokkaliga, Telugu Vokkaliga, Sarpa Vokkaliga, Uppinakolagada Vokkaliga, Mustiku Vokkaliga, Kapu Vokkaliga, Pakanatha Reddy Vokkaliga, Nadashetty Vokkaliga, Gowdas, Gounder and Vokkaliga Hegde.

Lingayat converts of the various Vokkaligas are treated separately and kept under Lingayats.

OTHER RELIGIONS :

BUDDHISTS : These are the Buddhist population reflected in our survey. The population is mainly concentrated in the Rehabilitation Centres for the Tibetians, situated in the State especially in Mysore.

CHRISTIANS ; Christianity as a religion does not recognise caste distinctions as it exists in Hindu Dharma. However, among Indian Christians, as reflected in our survey and as represented to us personally during our sittings and District Tours, they seem to have retained the corresponding castes from which they were converted. As per our survey the following have come up as sub-groups and sub-castes among Christians.

Adi Dravida, Adi Karnataka, Anglo-Indian, Protestant, Roman Catholic, S.C.Christian (Converts) and Syrian Christian.

As the general level of the socio-economic and educational status of the Scheduled Caste Converts to Christianity was found to be very low, the Commission has recommended that they are to be treated separately from the other Christians and included under the backward classes list. This has been mentioned separately in the chapter relating to recommendations on reservation.

GURKHA : Gurkhas consist of migrants from Himalayan Terai and they are a minority community in Karnatak with a population of 670, as reflected in the survey.

JAIN : Jains are a business and agricultural community. The Marwari Jains who have migrated from North were engaged in money lending and big business and are economically well off. The Sub-groups and castes reflected during our survey of 1984 are Bogara, Chaturtha, Digambara, Gujjaru, Jain Shet, Marvadi Jain, Pancham and Swethambara.

MUSLIM ; Muslims are the major minority community in Karnatak as elsewhere in India. Though Muslims are not supposed to have caste distinction as it is seen in Hindu Dharma, many castes and sub-groups have been reflected during our 1984 survey, based on their avocations. These are Bagawan, Chapparband, Darvesu, Fakeera, Hanafi, Jathagera, Kalal, Katukaru /Kasai, Labbe, Laddaf/Nadaf, Madari, Mapillai/Moplas /Kaka/Byari, Mohamadiya, Momin, Pathan, Pendar, Phoolmali, Pinjar/Doodekalu, Qureshi/Kureshi, Sayyad, Shafai, Shaik, Shia, Sunni.

PARSI : It is a very small minor community who are socially and educationally well off. They are mostly migrants from Northern India, particularly from Bombay and engaged in business. In our survey the population reflected was 3251.

SIKH : This again is very small migrant community from North engaged mainly in trade in big cities. In our survey the population reflected is 6643.
